"Synod Recap"

Thank you for all the prayers and texts during Synod this year. The battle was strong behind the scenes and in moments when the cameras were off. We praise the Lord that during viewed events most of the discussion was in line with God's Word other than notable exceptions that have been mentioned in other mediums.

The number one question that I receive in returning home is how did Synod go? I would describe Synod with an overall score of 86%. Passing marks with more to do.

But in the last three years, Synod has been gathering all the agencies and institutions, churches and pastors into the same harbor. Now this Synod finally has all in the fleet pointed the same direction and by God's grace now will truly work together for the blessing of the kingdom.

Below are some of the items that were talked thru and worked on.

1. Ecumenical Relationships

- RCA put on a five year draw down of our "in communion" status, encouraging no new joint ministries to begin.
 - All RCA ministers serving in CRC churches will now be required to sign the covenant of office bearers yearly at classis.
- Provisional approval for fellowship with the Alliance of Reformed Churches, contingent on their positive response to the CRCNA's invitation.

2. Seminary & University Reports

- Calvin Theological Seminary: Synod wholeheartedly approved the appointments of Dr. Jessica Joustra and Jaren Mickelson to open systematic theology positions.
 - Calvin Seminary BOT was instructed to bring all institutional teaching staff in line with the confessions.
- Calvin University: Revealed rigorous new confessional-alignment policy—three-year mentoring for faculty, annual reaffirmation of confessional adherence, limited indefinite exceptions only after six years, and serious theological review of dissent.
 - Clarification was requested for what an indefinite exception would be and when it would be given.
 - Calvin made it abundantly clear that they desired to have a confessional relationship with the CRCNA.

3. Denominational Structures & Procedures

- Council of Delegates introduced an updated nominations policy; deferred further policy refinements related to Synod 2024.
- The Bible translation committee is not recommending the Easy-to-read version of the NIV for public worship.

Assisted Suicide Task Force with synodical recommendations received unanimous votes that assisted suicide is a deplorable act and should be seen as outside of God's design and plan.

Virtual Church Task Force: permitted further experimenting in an effort to understand use of the sacraments and church discipline in a virtual way.

Confessional Integrity & Discipline

- Reinforced that office bearers cannot hold settled convictions opposed to CRC confession. All office bearers will sign the covenant for office bearers at each meeting of Classis.

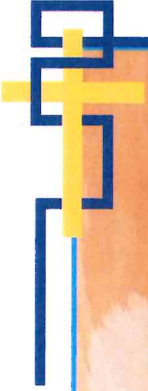

Bi-nationality

- Synod emphasized cross-national solidarity with an overwhelming vote 171 for the USA and Canada to remain together.

Continue to pray for the CRCNA and for the Lord to raise up new leaders throughout the denomination to fill over 300 vacant pulpits.

Blessings,

Pastor Matt

Welcome Jason & Cindy Timmerman

We are Jason and Cindy Timmerman. Jason is originally from Rock Rapids, born to the late Bernard and Shirley Timmerman. He attended Central Lyon school and graduated from Iowa Lakes Community College. Cindy is from Rock Valley, born to Ray and Nancy Mulder. She attended RV Christian School and Western Christian High School.

We were married on March 25, 1994, in Rock Valley and made our home here until 2018 when we built a new house 5 miles north of Doon on Jason's family century farm.

We have 3 grown children. Our daughter Tara is married to Dannon Faber from Inwood, and they live in Brookings, SD with 2 of our grandchildren, Otto (10) and Emmett (8). Our daughter Candra is married to Skyler Smith from Cedar Rapids, and they live in Rock Valley with 2 of our grandchildren, Sedona (2) and Jensen (9 months). Our son Brenden lives in Rock Valley.

We own a hog nursery close to our acreage that Jason has raised pigs in for almost 30 years. He also works part time at Moon River in Doon loading parts to be delivered. In his spare time, he does lots of repairs on the rental homes that we own. Cindy has been in banking for more than 30 years. Starting out at Valley State Bank and then switching to Peoples Bank almost 20 years ago. Working in many areas of the bank, she is currently the Senior Compliance Officer.

If we actually have time to relax, our favorite is spending time with our kids and grandkids, traveling with our motorcycles (Indian Chieftain & Indian Scout 60) mostly to National Parks or scenic areas and enjoying time with friends.

Sioux Falls Mission Service

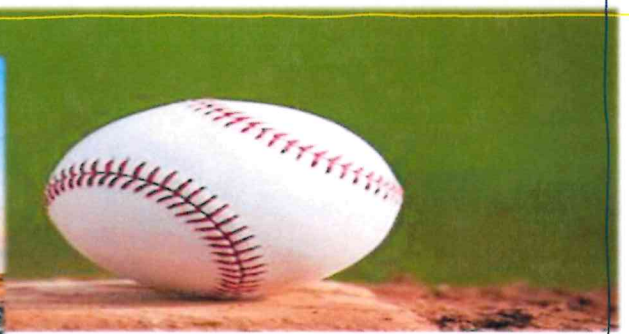

On June 23 members of Care Groups 4 & 5 attended the Sioux Falls Men's Mission. We were welcomed by several of the men in attendance. Many of them thanked us for coming.

Church members in attendance: Cody & Em, Alayna, Jake & Kylie Davelaar; Erin De Kam; Kelly & Patty Haak; Larry & Yvonne Haak; Pastor Haan; Rob & Karen Jansen; Travis & Kendra Jansen; Dick & Carla Jansma; Kevin Jansma; Taylor & Jessica, Jaelyn, Jordyn, Tyke & Treyton Kats; Jackie, Peyton & Oakley Rus; Lindsey Van Bommel; Nolan Van Otterloo; and Mark & Deb Van't Hul.

Rob welcomed everyone and opened with a word of prayer. Karen led the song service with familiar hymns and Jackie accompanied us on the piano. Kevin gave an inspiring message on the truths that are clearly said to us in the Bible. These truths are: 1) We are all sinners. 2) Jesus is the Way. There is no sin that he cannot forgive. He has paid for our sin so we can have salvation. 3) We are called to believe and to live a life of service to our Lord and Savior.

"Our God is an Awesome God" and "This Little Light of Mine" was special music sung by Alayna, Jake & Kyle Davelaar and Jordyn, Tyke & Treyton Kats and Peyton & Oakley Rus supported with a few adults. Closing prayer was led by Dick

We pray that we may have been a blessing to them and that they may have been drawn closer to God.

SEE YOU THERE! COME HUNGRY!

"Flood Thoughts: A Year Gone By"

Some questions were posed to me about the 2024 flood, and we all have taken the time to reflect and think back on this event. Even as the waters have receded and things have seemed to go back to "normal" (whatever that means in 2025), the flood still seems to be ever present. Families and businesses are rebuilding or starting over with homes and locations. The homes and locations that were affected by flood remain empty waiting to see what will be decided. One need only look at the news and see what is happening in other parts of the country and be transported in heart and mind back, back to June and July 2024.

How do we react to this recent event, how do we respond? Most of us do and have done what we can, what we were able to do at the time, and what we are able to do now. We helped people clean up their homes, we offered supplies and perhaps even shelter be it temporary or be it long-term. We gave money to businesses, people and causes that would help them get what they needed to continue the rebuilding process. And perhaps, last but not least in importance we were there, standing with and alongside those, offering prayers for families and communities. We gave them a hand up, something firm to grasp when it all seemed to be floating on by, no pun intended.

The questions may still remain, and answers will not be quick in coming. But what has been proven time and time again is that people will move on, not just because they want to but because they have to. This doesn't mean that our mindset has to move on from remembering the flood, who was impacted, what was lost, and what ultimately may never be the same. These changes will not only change the landscape and towns physically; they will alter the hearts and minds of many for many generations to come.

No matter what we go through in this life, God is always involved. It may fall beneath us to try to take on the role of the Creator but yet we can still feel, lead and have reactions to events in life some which may not be always very positive. Throughout the journey we must return to our hiding place, our shelter amidst the storms and questions of life. We must lay down "in green pastures" and be led "by quiet waters". We must have our souls restored not only in the midst of tragedy and heartbreak, but each and every day. While questions are still being asked and answers have yet to come, we can turn to the author of life the one who has written our story, knows its beginning and the end. He has guided us this far and will continue to lead us. Amid all the unknown, he is the known, the one who will never be moved in spite of earthly flood or heavenly activity.

“Holy Ground”

For me, there’s nothing quite like taking off my sandals in the summer and walking through the grass. But when our sons were infants, neither shared that love of going barefoot. When we’d attempt to lower them to play outside, they’d raise their legs, trying not to touch the tickly, prickly, green ground.

“Do not come any closer,” the Lord warned Moses through the burning bush. “Take off your sandals, for the place where you are standing is holy ground” (Exodus 3:5, NIV). In God’s presence, Moses faced a turning point: either resist God’s instructions or obey, leading the Israelites out of Egypt.

Maybe taking off my sandals this summer can remind me that I’m standing in God’s presence. I may not hear a booming voice, and I might just be standing at the kitchen sink doing chores. Or I might be at a barbecue, with the opportunity to truly listen to my neighbors. God’s presence permeates life’s big moments as well as the mundane.

How can you “take off your sandals” and enter what God has for you? ~Janna Firestone

“Fire Transforming Us For The Good”

For many people, relaxing by a campfire is a favorite summer activity. Nestling into the surrounding darkness while gazing into dancing flames, we sense God’s love and let the day’s chaos go. In contrast, Exodus 24:17 describes, “Now the appearance of the glory of God was like a devouring fire.”

Pastor Steve Garnaas-Holmes offers another take, writing about God using flames to change us.

“Fire”

God, your presence is like a consuming fire —not destructive, but transformative, not the fire of anger but the flame of love, the fire of glassblowers and bakers the grace to make us more beautiful, strong and useful.

Your glory is no tame campfire where we sit and make s’mores. It burns out of our control.

The furnace of your love roars about our hearts, remaking us. Teach us to be unafraid.

Radiant One, I want your grace to burn away all the old junk that is not really me, like gold being refined.

I want the warmth of your presence to melt what is hard or brittle in me.

I want the heat of your love to change the chemistry of my heart, to bake me into something life-giving, to mold me into a new shape.

Re-make me into a vessel of love.

Your light shine in me, the aroma of you waft from me, fresh from the oven.

When you bask in firelight glow — and maybe eat some s’mores! — ponder how God is transforming you with love, and for the sake of love. We’re all unworthy to receive Jesus’ body and blood, but that’s exactly why he offers it. Thanks be to God for redeeming and forgiving us — wiping away the stain of our sins! ~adapted from The Wired Word

“Tips for Gardeners”

“Love is to the heart what the summer is to the farmer’s year,” said evangelist Billy Graham. “It brings to harvest all the loveliest flowers of the soul.” Without summer, our gardens would disappoint, and without love, our hearts wouldn’t bloom.

The warmth of summer and love aren’t the only ingredients required for abundant physical and spiritual crops, however. Discernment and persistence ensure fruitful yields in both areas. “Unless we know the difference between flowers and weeds, we are not fit to take care of a garden,” advised Clyde Francis Lytle. “It is not enough to have truth planted in our minds. We must learn and labor to keep the ground clear of thorns and briars, follies and perversities, which have a wicked propensity to choke the word of life.”

“Fixer-Uppers”

Summer is peak time for home renovations and remodeling projects. Those can be super stressful, starting with the selection of a contractor.

In a blog about her own family’s construction plans, Laura Elliott explains the challenge: “It’s not just any builder I want. I want one who has impeccable workmanship, is completely trustworthy and delivers our long-awaited [projects] early and under-budget.” After sifting through bids and reviews, she discovered that most builders “look like they do pretty similar work for a pretty similar price.”

For spiritual renovations, however, the choice is clear. “God is the builder of everything,” says Hebrews 3:4 (NIV). Elliott writes, “Jesus is not only the builder of His Father’s house, but He is the buyer, and the heir as well.” And what he’s building, she adds, is “a better Bride,” his church.

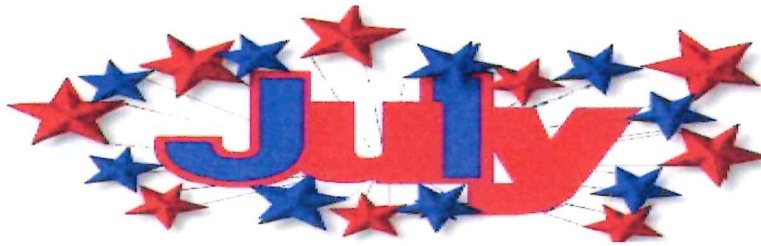

Faith upgrades are an ongoing, lifelong process. “The renewal of our natures is a work of great importance,” said 18th-century minister George Whitefield. “It is not to be done in a day. We have not only a new house to build up, but an old one to pull down.” It’s a good thing God oversees this project!
~Stephanie Martin

“A Walking Contradiction”

A real Christian is an odd number. He feels supreme love for One whom he has never seen; talks familiarly every day to Someone he cannot see; expects to go to heaven on the virtue of Another; empties himself in order to be full; admits he is wrong so he can be declared right; goes down in order to get up; is strongest when he is weakest, richest when he is poorest and happiest when he feels the worst. He dies so he can live; forsakes in order to have; gives away so he can keep; sees the invisible, hears the inaudible, and knows that which passes knowledge.

The [person] who has met God is not looking for anything; he has found it. He is not searching for light, for upon him the light has already shined. ... He is not a copy, not a facsimile. He is an original from the hand of the Holy Spirit. ~A.W. Tozer
